his age at his residence in Franklin Falls, cences of the distinguished public men of the country whom he had met in Washington. He attended Senator John C. Calhoun in his last illness at Washington in 1850 and was with Henry Clay when he died there two years later. Some of his reminiscences have been published from time under which the contracts were awarded.

The Canadian postmaster in his letter paid a pleasant and well-merited compliment to our postal authorities, as he closed prices and qualities for these articles are in some measure superior to which we in Canada appear in regulating prices of similar articles with us."

Mr. Frederick Springmann was to-day inspector of buildings has been led to seek information from the inspectors of buildings of other cities as to what is done to prevent the rapid communication of fire from the stage to the auditorium in theatres. The inspector of Boston sent a long letter giving many valuable suggestions and practical propositions, several of which the District officers will endeavor to enforce in regard to the theatres of this city.

Water-Registrar Cox reports that several hundred householders have expressed
